KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Eric Coffin, Editor, HRA Advisories

Eric Coffin, editor of HRA, looks for companies with the potential to at least double over one or two years based on asset growth and development of metals deposits for production or take over by larger companies. HRA also uncovers high risk/high potential exploration plays, the kind of "swing for the fences" trade that can yield returns of hundreds or even thousands of percent. Eric and his late brother, David Coffin, were early proponents of the commodity super cycle and correctly called a rapid turn in the markets and positioned readers in early 2009 when most commentators were expecting years of bear markets. This broad experience and hard work helped to generate an average gain of over 200% for nearly 100 companies tracked in the 2003-2013 period, including over 20 that were taken over by larger companies.

Keith Schaefer, Editor, Oil & Gas Investments Bulletin

Keith Schaefer is Editor and Publisher of the Oil & Gas Investments Bulletin. The Bulletin subscription service finds, researches, and profiles growing oil and gas companies that Mr. Schaefer buys himself, so Bulletin subscribers know he has his own money on the line. Mr. Schaefer identifies oil and gas companies that have high growth rates, or have the potential for that – this usually means they have a large undeveloped land position in an area where either production costs are very low or production rates can be very high. They are covered by several research analysts, so there is research support and institutional money flow behind them.

Nathan Weiss, CEO of Unit Economics

Nathan Weiss is the CEO of Unit Economics, a Boston-based independent research firm that provides institutional investors with insightful research on small and mid-cap equity securities. Nathan's innovative investment approach focuses on the 'Unit Economics' of the industries and the US listed companies he analyzes. He specializes in "out-of-Consensus" ideas with a two year time horizon. He was the first to call the ethanol trade in 2013-2014. He timed the LNG tanker trade perfectly in 2010. His Global Cooling research is some of the most provocative in the Market today.
